Enter your reflective comments	After a turbulent two years 2022 has seen the school take some necessary steps to gain back some of the Pre-covid momentum the school had. We will need to work hard to improve in the identified areas, but ensure we remain committed to our shared value of having fun whilst learning. We need not only academic performance to increase but necessarily we need students to feel connected and engaged with school. We will work on developing high levels of trust amongst staff, students and parents. Importantly developing curriculum knowledge of teachers and working on consolidating and achieving greater coherence when it comes to assessment practices will be of vital importance.

	The school will look forward to the inclusion of a dedicated wellbeing leader and will be looking to forge greater connections and networks of people who can help our cause of improving learning for all students.
